Premium Tax Credit Eligibility
Premium tax credit (PTC): Income-based financial assistance for eligible people who purchase coverage in the health insurance marketplaces.

PTC CAN BE TAKEN:

In advance (APTC):
- Forwarded to insurer to reduce monthly premiums

At tax time (PTC):
- Claimed as a lump sum at the end of the year

Note: In general, APTC and PTC follow the same rules, although there are some important safe harbors for PTC only.
APTC Eligibility Requirements

<tr>
<th>Income: Over 100% FPL</th>

<th>Ineligible for Other MEC</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| • Income must be above 100% and 400% FPL (>400% FPL in 2022 only)
• Some exceptions apply | • If married, cannot file as married filing separately
• Cannot be a tax dependent
• Some exceptions apply | • Cannot be eligible for another type of MEC, such as Medicaid or employer coverage
• Some exceptions apply |

- In addition, a Marketplace enrollee:
  - Must be a U.S. citizen or have a status considered “lawfully present”*
  - Cannot be incarcerated (except if pending disposition of charges)
  - Must be a resident of the Marketplace service area

* For a list of immigration statuses considered “lawfully present,” see HealthCare.gov: www.healthcare.gov/immigrants/immigration-status
Income Requirements

Exceptions to the 100% FPL limit

• Lawfully present individuals
  ▪ Lawfully present individuals with income under 100% FPL are eligible for APTC if they are ineligible for Medicaid because of their immigration status

• Reconciliation safe harbor
  ▪ If someone projects income above 100% FPL and receives APTC, but at the end of the year has income below 100% FPL, they are protected by a safe harbor and eligible for PTC

Eligible Tax Filing Status

Must file a tax return and have an eligible filing status

• Cannot be a dependent of another taxpayer
  ▪ The taxpayer who claims the dependent must apply on their behalf

• If married, must file a joint return (i.e., cannot be Married Filing Separately)
  ▪ Three exceptions to joint filing requirement:
    o Head of Household → Incorporated into HealthCare.gov questions
    o Survivors of domestic abuse → Requires HealthCare.gov workaround
    o Abandoned spouses → Requires HealthCare.gov workaround
Exceptions to Joint Filing Requirement for PTC

When can a married person file as Head of Household?

A married person is considered unmarried and is eligible to file as Head of Household if he or she can answer YES to each of the following questions:

- Will you file taxes separately from your spouse?
- Will you live apart from your spouse from July 1 to Dec 31?
- Will you pay more than half of the cost of keeping up your home?
- Is yours the main home of your child, stepchild, or foster child (of any age) for more than half the year?
- Are you eligible to claim the child as a dependent? (You meet this test if you are eligible to claim the child but the child is instead claimed by a noncustodial parent.)

If all the answers are Yes, the applicant is considered unmarried and can file as Head of Household. If the answer to any of these questions is No, the applicant cannot file as Head of Household.

Note: A special rule allows the resident spouse of a nonresident (as defined for tax purposes) to qualify as considered unmarried if they have a qualifying person and meet the other tests.

Head of Household

- Married people can be considered unmarried by the IRS if they qualify to file as Head of Household
- HealthCare.gov questions help to project whether the rules will be met
A married person can claim to be Single on the HealthCare.gov application under either of these circumstances:

Domestic abuse
A taxpayer who is Married Filing Separately can meet the joint filing requirement if they:
- Live apart from their spouse
- Are unable to file a joint return because of domestic abuse

Abandoned spouse
A taxpayer who is Married Filing Separately can meet the joint filing requirement if they:
- Live apart from their spouse
- Cannot locate spouse after using reasonable diligence

Note: There are no special documentation requirements, though it's possible someone could be asked for more information if audited. These exceptions can be used by people filing as Married Filing Separately for a maximum of three consecutive years.
Special Rule for Certain Immigrants

- Certain immigrants file taxes on Form 1040-NR
  - Some immigrants (often foreign students on an F, J, M, or Q visa) must file taxes on Form 1040-NR because they can’t meet the “substantial presence test” in their first 5 years in the US
  - Form 1040-NR doesn’t allow married nonresident immigrants to file jointly with a spouse so they can’t meet the joint filing requirement to claim APTC
Ineligible for Other MEC

• In general, to qualify for APTC, a person cannot be eligible for or enrolled in other minimum essential coverage (MEC)

• Eligibility for some types of MEC bars APTC eligibility:
  - Most government-sponsored coverage
    - Premium free Medicare Part A
    - Medicaid/CHIP
      - Note that termination for failure to pay premiums still disqualifies someone from APTC eligibility
  - Employer-sponsored coverage (that is affordable and meets minimum value)

• Some types of MEC bar APTC eligibility only if the person is enrolled:
  - COBRA
  - Employer-sponsored retiree coverage
  - Certain veterans’ and TRICARE coverage
  - Medicare that requires payment of a Part A premium

For more information on what counts as MEC, see the Health Reform: Beyond the Basics MEC Reference Chart
Types of MEC

Jane's coverage

What type of coverage does Jane have?

☐ Marketplace coverage
Select if Jane has coverage through HealthCare.gov or a state-based Marketplace.

☐ Florida Medicaid
Don't check this box if one of these applies to Jane's coverage:

- Their coverage pays for only limited benefits, like family planning services, emergency services, outpatient hospital services, or treatment of tuberculosis.
- Their coverage pays for only coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) testing.
- Their Medicaid coverage doesn't pay for inpatient hospital services.

☐ Florida KidCare (CHIP)

☐ Medicare

☐ TRICARE
Don't select if Jane has Direct Care or Line of Duty.

☐ Veterans Affairs (VA) health care program

☐ Peace Corps

☐ COBRA
Don't check this box if this person will end COBRA coverage once they enroll in Marketplace coverage. Select if Jane is enrolled in COBRA (and plans to keep it during 2021). They won't qualify for a premium tax credit, but may be eligible to enroll in a Marketplace health plan or other programs. Learn more about COBRA.

☐ Retiree health benefits
Select if Jane is enrolled in a retiree health plan (an employer-provided health care plan that carries over to retirement) and plans to keep it during 2021. They won't qualify for a premium tax credit, but may be eligible to enroll in a Marketplace health plan or other programs.

☐ Coverage through their job (or another person's job, like a spouse or parent)
Select if Jane is currently enrolled in a job-based plan and can use the health benefits.

☐ Other full benefit coverage

☐ Other limited benefit coverage

Beyond the Basics
To bar APTC eligibility, government-sponsored coverage must have comprehensive benefits.

* Coverage benefits vary by state (see state-by-state MEC designations). If coverage consists of or is equivalent to full Medicaid benefits, it is considered MEC and bars eligibility for PTC.

 Comprehensive but considered unaffordable regardless of income.
Eligibility for Employer-Sponsored Insurance (ESI)
A person cannot get APTC if their ESI offer is:

- An “eligible employer-sponsored plan”
  - Not indemnity or accident coverage
  - and -

- Affordable
  - An offer is considered affordable if it costs less than 9.61% of household income. This bars eligibility for APTC.
  - and -

- Comprehensive
  - An offer is comprehensive if it meets the “minimum value” standard

If the offer violates one or more of these requirements, the employee might be eligible for APTC (assuming all other tests are met)

For more information on what counts as MEC, see the Health Reform: Beyond the Basics MEC Reference Chart
Eligible Employer-Sponsored Plans

Only use an “eligible employer-sponsored plan” when deciding which plan to look at to determine affordability and minimum value.

ESI Affordability

- ESI is “affordable” if the employee contribution for self-only coverage is less than 9.61% of household income (in 2022)

- Employee contribution for self-only coverage determines affordability for both the employee and other members of the family who are offered coverage

- If self-only employer coverage is unaffordable, the employee (and family) can qualify for APTC
Affordability of ESI

• The employee premium for self-only coverage determines affordability for both the employee and other family members offered coverage

  ▪ “Family glitch”: If the employee’s premium is considered affordable, the employee isn’t eligible for APTC – and neither is their family, if they have a coverage offer, no matter how expensive family coverage is

• But a family member can get APTC if:
  • They aren’t offered coverage through the employee (ex. no family coverage offer)
  • They aren’t on the employee’s tax return (example: a child claimed by an ex-spouse instead of the employee)
Minimum Value of ESI

- An employer plan meets minimum value if it has an actuarial value greater than 60%
- How do I know if it meets minimum value?
  - It will be on the plan’s Summary of Benefits and Coverage (SBC)

Job-based health coverage

Does ABC Co (Jane's job) offer a health plan that meets the minimum value standard?
Most job-based plans meet the minimum value standard.

- Yes
- No

Does this plan meet the Minimum Value Standards? Yes.

If your plan doesn't meet the Minimum Value Standards, you may be eligible for a premium tax credit to help you pay for a plan through the Marketplace.

Actuarial value = % the plan pays of the cost of coverage for essential health benefits for a typical population, after accounting for cost-sharing charges required under the plan.
Example: Offers of ESI and Eligibility for APTC

• Monica and Roberto are married and have two children, Elena and Miguel

• Their household income is $40,000

• Monica’s employer offers only one comprehensive coverage plan that meets minimum value. There are two enrollment options:
  ▪ Just Monica: $150 per month; or ▪ Family: $450 per month

• Family coverage is too expensive so Monica wants to know if her family qualifies for APTC

</table>

Are Monica and her family eligible for APTC?

Employee test:

Is Monica’s plan affordable?

(So, is her lowest-cost premium for a minimum value plan less than 9.61% of household income?)

- Yes, Monica’s share of the premium for coverage just for her is 4.5% of household income

Family test:

Same test: Is Monica’s plan affordable?

- Family coverage costs 13.5% of income but is still considered affordable since Monica’s coverage costs less than 9.61% of income

× Monica is not eligible for APTC

× Monica’s family is not eligible for APTC
What if Monica’s employer doesn’t offer spousal coverage?

Family test (Monica plus kids):
Same as previous test: Is Monica’s plan affordable?
- Yes, Monica’s premium is 4.5% of income so Monica can’t get APTC. That means her kids can’t get APTC, either, even though the premium for Monica plus her kids is 10.5% of income

- The kids are not eligible for APTC (but are likely eligible for Medicaid or CHIP)

Test for spouse with no ESI offer (Roberto):
- Roberto isn’t offered coverage through Monica’s job, so he isn’t barred from receiving APTC (if otherwise eligible)

Additional Rules and Exceptions in ESI

• If employer coverage is not affordable or MV but the employee enrolls in it anyway, they cannot get APTC in those months
  ▪ They would need to drop the coverage to enroll in a marketplace plan with APTC
  ▪ Note: Dropping coverage for this reason does not trigger a special enrollment period

• If a person could have enrolled in ESI but missed the employer’s open enrollment period, that offer still counts and bars eligibility for APTC if the plan meets the affordability and MV standards

• If there is a waiting period before an employee can enroll in an employer plan, they are eligible for APTC during those months only

• Offers of COBRA or retiree coverage do not bar eligibility for APTC, unless they enroll
  ▪ Student health plans work in the same way. They don’t bar eligibility for APTC (unless the student enrolls)
Can Serena drop COBRA and qualify for APTC?
It depends

- During her 60-day "loss of coverage" special enrollment period (or any other SEP): Serena can drop COBRA and enroll in marketplace coverage with APTC
- During open enrollment: Serena can drop COBRA and enroll in marketplace coverage with APTC
- At other times: Serena can’t get into marketplace coverage because dropping COBRA coverage doesn’t trigger a special enrollment period

Note: Offers of retiree coverage and student health plans have the same rules.
Kala, 24 years old

- Graduate student and Single tax filer
- Income: $19,000 (148% FPL)
- Her dad’s employer offers family coverage
  - Even though she is no longer a tax dependent, Kala has the option of staying on her parent’s ESI until she reaches age 26
  - His offer does not bar eligibility for APTC because Kala is not on the same tax return as her dad
- Her school offers coverage through a student health plan
  - Offer of a student health plan does not bar eligibility for APTC (unless currently enrolled)

Other Employer Coverage: HRAs

• A Health Reimbursement Arrangement (HRA) is an employer-funded, tax-free employee account for reimbursement of medical expenses

• Two types of HRAs interact with marketplace coverage:
  ▪ Qualified Small Employer HRA (QSEHRA)
  ▪ Individual Coverage HRA (ICHRA)

• Both HRAs have affordability tests that measure the employer’s contribution to the cost of a marketplace plan against the 9.61% affordability standard, but the tests are different

• Impact on PTC eligibility is different
Reconciliation of Overlapping Coverage

In general, to be eligible for PTC, the taxpayer must not be eligible for (or enrolled in) other coverage, but some special rules apply, especially at reconciliation.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>First-day rule</th>
<th>People who are eligible for APTC on the first day of the month are considered eligible for the full month</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Medicaid       | If a person gets APTC but later becomes eligible for Medicaid:
• APTC is allowed for months of retroactive Medicaid coverage
• The person can choose to remain in APTC for the entire calendar year or enroll in Medicaid |
| Medicare       | A person loses eligibility for APTC when they become eligible for Medicare, even if they don’t enroll. APTC eligibility ends on the first day of the fourth full month after the person became eligible for Medicare |
| Employer-sponsored coverage | If the taxpayer accurately informed the marketplace of the ESI premium (with no intentional or reckless disregard for the facts) and, despite the affordable offer, was awarded APTC anyway, the taxpayer can claim PTC. But the safe harbor does not apply when a person re-enrolls: the presence/cost of an ESI offer must be updated at re-enrollment. |
Calculation of the Premium Tax Credit
How is the PTC Calculated?

- Premium Tax Credit: Difference between the cost of the benchmark plan and the expected premium contribution an individual is expected to pay.

- Cost of Benchmark Plan: The premium cost of the second lowest cost silver plan (SLCSP) available to each eligible household member.

- Expected Premium Contribution: What a tax household is expected to contribute towards the cost of premiums (based on a sliding scale tied to projected annual household income).

What Is a Benchmark Plan?

The benchmark plan is the second lowest cost silver plan available to each eligible household member.

Actuarial value is a measure of the percentage of expected health care costs a health plan will cover and is considered a general summary measure of health plan generosity. It represents an average for a population and does not necessarily reflect the actual cost-sharing experience of an individual.
Rating Factors Affect the Cost of an Enrollee’s Benchmark Plan

Age
- Limited to no more than 3-to-1 variation
- Each family member is rated separately

Family size
- Total premium for family = Sum of premiums for each family member
  - In families with more than 3 members under 21, count only 3 oldest children

Geographic area
- Prices may vary by rating area in a state
Factors Affecting Premiums (But Not the Benchmark)

Tobacco use
- Limited to no more than 1.5-to-1 variation
- Difference due to tobacco use is not accounted for in the APTC calculation

Plan chosen by consumer
- Amount of APTC is pegged to the benchmark plan, but the consumer can purchase any metal plan
Example: Calculating the APTC

Teresa, Antonio, Gaby, and Michael

- Income: $53,000/year (200% FPL)
- Expected income contribution: 2% of income ($1,060/year, $88/month)

3 LOWEST COST SILVER PLANS THAT COVER FAMILY:

- Benchmark Plan
  - Family Contribution: $1,060/year ($88/month)
  - APTC: $787/month

- $10,000/year ($833/month)
- $10,500/year ($875/month)
- $11,000/year ($917/month)

They can use this APTC amount to buy any plan.
Example: Impact of Benchmark Plan on APTC Calculation

Teresa, Antonio, Gaby, and Michael

- Income: $53,000/year (200% FPL)
- Expected income contribution: 2% of income ($1,060/year, $88/month)
  - Kids are eligible for CHIP

3 LOWEST COST SILVER PLANS THAT COVER TERESA AND ANTONIO:

- $7,000/year ($583/month)
- $7,500/year ($625/month)
- $8,000/year ($667/month)

APTC Calculation (monthly)

Benchmark Plan $625
Family Contribution $88
APTC $537

They can use this APTC amount to buy any plan.
Example: Impact of Benchmark Plan on APTC Calculation

Teresa, Antonio, Gaby, and Michael

- Income: $53,000/year (200% FPL)
- Expected income contribution: 2% of income ($1,060/year, $88/month)

Key takeaway
The family pays the same amount, regardless of the number of family members enrolled (since the family’s contribution is based on income, not plan cost).

Example: APTC is $200/month ($2,400/year)
Report Changes that Impact the APTC

• Report income and household changes
  ▪ If someone earns more than they estimated, they could owe PTC back on their tax return if they don’t report the change
  ▪ If they earn less than projected, updating income will raise their APTC now or result in Medicaid/CHIP eligibility (or they can get additional PTC at tax filing)

• When you report income increases, beware of the APTC calculation
  ▪ The APTC is calculated based on the new income, without regard to the APTC already received

Example:

• At the start of the year, Malcolm’s APTC is $2,400 ($200/month).

• In September, Malcolm reports higher income, after he has already received $1,800 in APTC.

• Based on his new income, he’s eligible for $1,200 in APTC for the year. HealthCare.gov calculates an APTC of $100/month for the rest of the year. ($1,200/12 months = $100/month)

• He should reduce the amount of APTC he receives to zero. Malcolm has already received more APTC than he’s entitled to and will need to repay the excess, up to the repayment cap.
Unemployment Compensation (2021 Only)

- In 2021, people who were determined eligible for and/or received unemployment compensation at any point in the year are considered to have income at 138% FPL for APTC and cost-sharing reduction purposes.
  - This means they would be eligible for the highest level of APTC and cost-sharing reductions available.
- Their income will also be calculated as 138% FPL for reconciliation purposes, regardless of their actual 2021 annual income.
- This provision was only for 2021 and doesn’t currently extend to 2022.
Repayment Caps

People who have more income than they projected will owe back some or all of the APTC they received:

- In 2020, repayment was suspended
- For 2021 and going forward, repayment is back

Example: Income over 400% FPL and APTC Repayment

• For 2022, Malcolm estimates his income at $50,000 (392% FPL). He receives APTC of $7,500.

• But at the end of the year, his annual household income is $55,000 (431%). Based on that income, he is actually only eligible for APTC of $6,800.

• Previously, there was no APTC repayment cap for people whose income was over 400% FPL. Since Malcom’s year-end household income was over 400% FPL, he would have had to pay back the entire APTC he received: $7,500.

• Because APTC is available for people with income over 400% FPL in 2022, Malcolm would only have to pay back $700 ($7,500 - $6,800).
